

If screened cable is used screen continuity should be maintained and the screen should be earthed only at one point. The earthing point should preferably be close to the safety barrier.